The Luckiest Hit of Our Lives!

One of the largest failures that ever occurred in New York City was that of Seligman, May & Co., manufacturers of custom-made clothing. We were JUST IN TIME with

THE HARD COLD CASH

to make offers to the trustees for the creditors, that we scarcely hoped to have accepted, so ridiculously low were they; but this has been a dull season in the

New York Clothing Market,

and minutes on Broadway are like so many precious stones, and, to our surprise and great joy, our offers were accepted, and we scooped in enough to supply our Hopkinsville and Hartford stores at not a cent more than half the manufacturing cost, and now we propose to give our customers the benefit of this purchase—RUN THEM OFF WITH A BOOM and trust to luck for another chance when they are gone.

THESE GOODS ARE ALL BRAND-NEW--LATEST STYLES AND FINEST QUALITY!

And we are going to sell them at prices as low, if not lower, than our competitors paid for their goods, and still make money. Our prices are as they were in our wonderful HALF-PRICE SALE. Not only were we fortunate in our clothing purchases, but as well in our Furnishing Goods. In Flannel Undershirts we struck a line of imported samples made in Glasgow, Scotland, and whether you want to buy anything of the kind or not, we would be glad to have you just come and see the elegance of the material and beauty of the make-up. Among them are a few Silk Shirts that cost $5 piece, but the goods having been used as samples we bought them at 50 per cent discount, and will sell them at less than the manufacturer's cost. IN MEN'S LINEN COLLARS we will break any record ever made. Read:

Men's Pure Linen 4-Ply Standing Collars, (off styles), cost $1.50 doz. to manufacture, our price 5 cents doz.

Among them are some plain straight styles. Only one dozen will be sold to each customer. We have 100 dozen. Of course they won't last long. So first come, first served. Men's New Style, 4-Ply Linen Turn-Down Collars, all sizes, worth 15 and 20c, our price 5c

Fine Fancy Bordered, Good Size Handkerchiefs for 3 Cents.

Finest Silk Hats made (samples, but good as new) worth $5 to $7.50, our price $2.50.

We have wonderful bargains in every department and all we ask is an opportunity to show you our stock and then if we can't sell you and save you money besides, we'll step down and out and let some fellow in what can.

Our Terms:—Cash Before Delivery.

One price marked in plain figures and that lower than any living man can give you.

LOST BANK-NOTES.

One of the Great Sources of Income of the

There is one fate which befalls a bank-note that no one as yet seems to have noticed, not even the lynx-eyed Chancellor of the Exchequer. What is to be said, or left unsaid, about all these bank-notes which, going out month by month and year by year from the Bank of England, never return? How many go down in ships to the bottom of the sea? How many perish in the fires of great cities, or are buried with living men and women in yawning gulfs by earthquakes? Some, it is on record, are cast into the fire in a feminine fit of temper, or used in vulgar ostentation by a rich excess to light his own or a friend's cigar. Who shall say how many of the lost notes are not eaten by rats or mice, or torn to shreds in play by Timothy, the winsome cat? How many are swept into the sewers of our big cities, or into the gutters of the streets, washed out of all semblance of their original form and beauty? All these destroyed or missing notes, representing gold which has never been demanded, are pure profit and gain to the Bank of England. The immense value of this gain is known to the Bank of England only, and more are recorded in its books and ledgers. O ye gods and Radicals! what an amount of "unearned increment" falls to the bank from these unclaimed notes, bearing on their face the "promise to pay on demand" so many hundreds and hundreds of thousands of pounds! Whisper it is not in Downing street; breathe it not

VILLAGE WATER WORKS.

Practical Hints on How to Plan and Construct Them.

One of the first questions which be-shall the town own its own works, or shall some private corporation be contracted with for the purpose? The best thing to be done at first is to get an engineer of practical experience in water works, and not connected with any particular system of pumps or machinery, to make a general preliminary survey of the place and advise as to what should be done. This will cost two or three hundred dollars, and will probably save two or three thousand. If the work is to be done by a private corporation the contract with the town should be carefully drawn under the advice of such an engineer.

If it be decided that the work shall be done by the municipality, a well-trained engineer should be employed to plan and supervise the construction of the works, his plans to be approved by the skilled water-works' engineer; and there should be a definite understanding that he is to become the municipal engineer and take charge of the operation of the works as well as of what is to follow. From the very commencement the introduction of water-pipes into houses should be made under regulations, to prevent waste and to allow easy inspection as to whether such waste is going on. The introduction of a water supply involves arrangements for the removal of this water after it has been used. It should be made use of to carry off all the excreta

ROCKETS IN STORMS.

Distributing Oil Over Large Stretches of

Troubled Water.

The patent for an improved method of distributing oil on a stormy sea, invented in Germany, has been purchased by the Norddeutsche Lloyd Steamship

Company.

A rocket, to which is attached a cylinder filled with oil, comprises the main part of the patent.

When a heavy storm arises on the ocean, and the ship is in danger from the waves, the rocket, it is said, can be fired so that the oil in the cylinder can be distributed at any point the navigators wish.

Several very interesting experiments have been lately made by the captains of the Norddeutsche Lloyd steamships during storms on the Atlantic. They go to show that the rockets can be so fired that the oil can be distributed over 2,000 to 5,000 square feet of troubled water.

On one occasion recently a rocket was fired a distance of over 1,500 feet.

Again, when in a nor-wester, another rocket was fired in the teeth of a gale a distance of 900 feet. By the explosion of five rockets at a distance of 1,300 to 1,500 feet from one of the Nord-deutsche fleet, a space of 2,000 to 3,000 square feet of water was covered with the oil, and the heavy motion of the sea calmed.

Experiments are being made with an eye to the improvement of even this patent.

"The importance of this invention to ocean sailors," said one of the firm

A STUNNER.

Judge Grace Gives The O. V. a Black Eye.

Last Friday the President of the O. V. Railroad came to Hopkinsville and directed the submission of an agreed case in Circuit Court to pass upon the legality of the O. V. bonds issued by this county. The suit was filed in the name of J. T. Smith, a tax payer, and argued the same day by Judge Landes for the O. V. and by Mr. Stiles for the county court. The case was submitted to the court in the afternoon and taken under advisement until the following morning.

Their opinion was universal among the lawyers as well as the public generally that the validity of the bonds would be sustained. The point raised by the opposition was that an old statute of 1870, prohibiting the voting on two railroad propositions the same day, had never been repealed. The O. V. attorney argued that the adoption of the revised statutes later repealed that the C. & T. proposition, through a mistake, had not been advertised long enough and consequently was not a legal submission.

On Saturday morning Judge Grace delivered his opinion orally, though it was in writing. He held that the bonds were invalid upon the ground that the 1870 statute was still in force and also upon the further ground that the County Judge acting alone had no right to submit the O. V. proposition. The decision was a surprise to everybody and a strong feeling of mingled disappointment and indignation soon pervaded the city. Some were disposed to harshly criticize Judge Grace, claiming that the decision was one in line with his oft-expressed ideas against taxation for railroads; but most of our people, while believing the court was in error, were willing to concede an honest purpose and an unbiased judgment. The decision is nothing short of a calamity. With the exception of a few exponents of "constitutional" law and omniscient I-told-you-sos, there was not a man in the county who expected such a decision. If the higher Court sustains it, and the O. V. really wants to come to Hopkinsville, the fight will have to be made over again from the start.

National Fertilizers.

I have just filled my house and will keep a full supply on hand of National Fertilizers for Tobacco, Corn, Wheat, Oats, Meadows and vegetables. Remember, I have no traveling salesman to be paid out of the farmers' pockets. Office with J. H. Anderson & Co., No. 1 Glass Street.

Church finances and care for the poor were discussed. T. C. Hanbery leading the former and E. W. Davis the latter.

Interesting addresses were made by Eld. Meacham and others. The afternoon session was occupied with reports from the churches, some of which were encouraging. The next meeting was appointed to be held at Concord the second Saturday and Sunday in June and J. O. Rust was requested to preach on Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Rev. J. W. Boyd preached to a very attentive audience on Saturday night. Sunday morning—Meeting called to order by the Assistant Moderator, J. W. Boyd; prayer by Eld. Joel Hopson, after which Thos. Rodman was introduced and read an admirable report on the Cuban mission. The report contained valuable information of the Island of Cuba and its people and clearly showed the hand of Providence in the conversion and mission's work of Diaz. Mr. Rodman has a fine voice, open, frank manner and is full of promise to the various fields of Christian usefulness.

At 11 o'clock Elder A. W. Meacham preached a sermon on Heaven as the better country and gave a striking contrast between this world and the world to come.

In the afternoon the meeting was opened with prayer by T. C. Hanbery. Dr. B. F. Eager was introduced. His subject was beaught Africa and well did he show the condition and progress of that wonderful country. The meeting closed with interesting exercises, having been a pleasant and profitable occasion. The hospitality of Crofton was characteristic and everybody returned delighted with the kind attention received. VISITOR.
